NEW: T-EXO AND V-EXO PROFILES

- T-EXO – 78 mm and 68 mm panel doors.
- V-EXO – 78 mm and 68 mm frame-panel doors.

Manufactured in an optimized technological process, they maintain the full equipment standard known from the 92 mm version.

The Urzędowski wooden door collection, including both panel and frame-panel models, has been developed with the highest aesthetic and functional standards in mind. A variety of structural options and available profile thicknesses allow for harmonious integration with the architecture and character of any project.

A new standard of Urzędowski 92 mm doors, delivering even better thermal insulation with a U_d value of 0.88 W/(m²·K)

- TREND – 92 mm panel doors.
- VILLA – 92 mm frame-panel doors.

It is the perfect choice for energy-efficient projects and those requiring the highest performance standards.

Complementarity of the Urzędowski product range

All door models perfectly complement our range of wooden windows – also available in 92, 78, and 68 mm thicknesses. This ensures technical compatibility and aesthetic consistency of the joinery throughout the entire project.

Colour range and individual customization

Urzędowski wooden exterior doors are made to order, with attention to every detail – to fully meet both aesthetic expectations and the specific requirements of each architectural project.

We offer a wide range of finishes:

- transparent colours highlighting the wood's natural grain,
- a full range of colours from the RAL and NCS palettes,
- the option of dual-side colouring – different finishes for the exterior and interior sides.

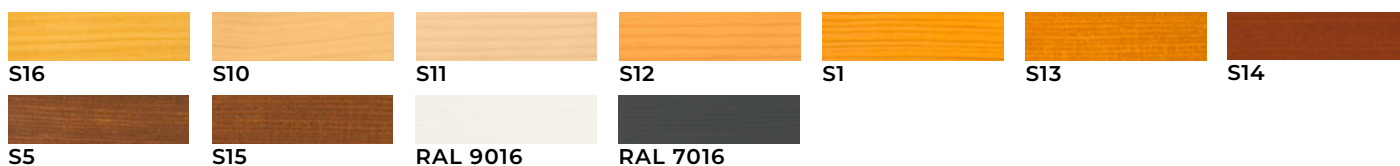

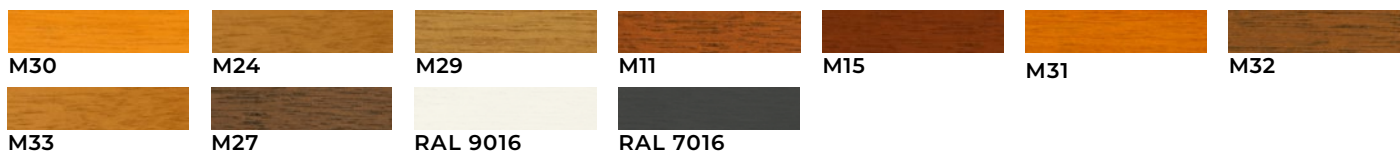

About Us

For over 30 years, the Urzędowski Window and Door Factory has specialized in the production of premium-class wooden joinery. The foundation of the brand lies in deep artisanal knowledge, extensive experience, and advanced technologies, which have enabled dynamic growth and a solidified position as a leader in the wooden joinery industry.
